

St. Francis of Assisi, Isleworth
Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity
Sunday September 1st, 2024

Today's second reading is from the Letter of James. We do not know who exactly wrote the letter or to whom it was addressed, but it is a very practical letter. The passage reminds its readers that they must not just hear the Word, but also act on it. To have any reality, faith must be lived out in the midst of life.

For your prayers

For those who are returning to school after the holidays, both staff and students

For the Church, for a spirit of thankfulness for the Bread of Life

For Sarah our bishop, and Emma our area bishop

For The King

For peace in our world and especially in the Holy Land and Ukraine; for the wider Middle East; for Sudan and Myanmar in the midst of a civil war

For the sick and suffering, for those in hospital, in different forms of care or supported at home

For the departed especially all who have died recently particularly Eileen Willis

For those whose anniversaries of death fall at this time

Notices

Welcome to everyone to worship today. A collection is taken during the service, but you also make a donation using the contactless machine at the back of the Church.
